DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of group I (claims 1-21) in Paper filed on 10/6/2004 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the inventions of Groups I and II are related in that the process of Group II relates to the same catalyst used in the process of Group I, since the claim of Group II specifically refers to Claim 1. This is not found persuasive because as discussed in the restriction letter, these two processes have different effects, different modes of functions (production versus regeneration), different operations (see claims). Therefore, clearly they require different searches (burdens).

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted steps are: the step of producing mesitylene and durene.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 1764

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

While applicants claim the process as a process of preparing mesitylene and durene, there is no a step how these desired products are produced (see claims).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Wu et al (5,929,295).

Wu discloses a process of treating a pseudocumene with a beta-zeolite catalyst having similar characteristics as cited in claims at a temperature of ranging from 250-1000°C and a pressure ranging from 10-2000 psig (the abstract; col. 8, lines 19-20; col. 9, lines 5-9).

Wu does not disclose that a mixture of mesitylene and durene is produced. However, this mixture is inherently produced since Wu process is also a process including a step of treating pseudocumene with beta zeolite under same conditions of temperature and pressure.

The Wu catalyst contains an amount of alumina as a binder (col. 3, lines 44-61).

The WHSV can be found on column 8, lines 64-67.

The porosity can be found on column 3, lines 25-29.

A fixed bed can be found on column 8, line 57.

A liquid phase is disclosed on column 7, lines 39-40.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 17-21 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
